

HOME NEWS.

The steamer "Annon" has been laid up. The "Oregon" sails for this port on Friday the 24 inst.

Professor Clark's concert on Friday evening was well attended, Masonic Hall being comfortably filled.

Owing to the superior finish and excellence of work, a stand pre-eminence as a photographer. Give him a call.

The average daily attendance upon the public schools last month was 1,655; average daily absence one hundred and twelve.

A large lot of second-hand sewing machines is offered at 143 Front street. Prices from $5 to $15, and all kinds warranted.

The elegant steamer "Lorline" has been chartered for a picnic excursion from Oregon City to Vancouver on Decoration Day.

Ladies, note the advertisement of Mrs. J. Stephenson and call and examine her elegant millinery goods. No description will do them justice.

The steamer "Great Republic" was sold on Friday evening, for $1,280, and the cargo of the same for $2,500, Jackson & Myers, of this city, being purchasers.

Ladies can have their own hair made up in a reliable manner, also faded hair colored equal to new, at Mrs. Wase's hair store, 64 Morrison street, Portland.

It is thought that the cases of the two Chinese murders, under sentence of death in this city, will be reached by the Supreme Court the latter part of the present week.

Owners of unclaimed goods on the "Great Republic" will be allowed to reclaim their goods whenever found and identified, on payment of the usual charges for salvage.

The National Employment Bureau is at the cottage, 107 Morrison street, opposite the post office. Mrs. Eli Jones superintends the ladies' department. J. Howell Jones, manager.

The funeral of General Sully took place in this city on Tuesday, the entire command accompanying the body from Vancouver. The remains will be sent east for final interment.

Mrs. R. M. Martin manufactures the "Marian" double-faced improved skirt, at No. 125 First street, rooms 5 and 6. Her work gives perfect satisfaction, and she merits patronage.

Mr. Bullock, a prominent musician of San Jose, was a passenger on the last trip of the "Republic." He is highly spoken of by the press of San Jose, and will probably establish himself in Portland.

The New Wilson sewing machine gives complete satisfaction both in price and work. Call upon John B. Garrison, No. 149 Front street, and he will tell you all about the machine, sell you one cheap, and warrant it for five years.

A. Ferrara, first street, keeps the finest and best assortment of teas in the city. He procures them direct from Japan, and warrants them to be what they are represented. We have sampled them, and add our testimony to their favor.

The Sabbath school, connected with the First street M. E. Church, will give a May excursion to the Cascades on Saturday, the 10 inst. The steamer "City of Salem" has been chartered for the occasion. Tickets for round trip, $1.50.

Having obtained the process of taking pictures with lightning rapidity (by Lambert's patent), Joseph Buchtel is now prepared to do work better than heretofore, and assures the public that here and there the best work shall leave the gallery.

No more whiskey will be sold from here on the boats of the O. R. N. Co. The order for this abolitionist took effect on the first of May. This is a practical move in advance, which all temperance people appreciate and rejoice over.

City grocers will please take notice that the large stock of canned corn in store at the warehouses of Allen & Lewis is going rapidly, and they would do well to order as largely as possible while it lasts. The corn is grown and canned by L. C. Clute & Co., of Howell Prairie, and is uniformly attested by those who try it will use no other brand.

Miss Ada Colburn left this city on Tuesday of last week for Tillamook, and reports a fatiguing horse-back journey across the mountains, the snow on some places being still too deep to allow the passage of the stage. The trip was made from North Yamhill in one day, starting at seven o'clock A. M. and arriving at Tillamook post office at nine P. M.

D. W. Prentice & Co. have placed upon our table the initial number of the Monthly Musical Journal, which highly commends itself to public favor. It is furnished to subscribers for seventy-five cents per year, each number contains at least one dollar's worth of new music and a compilation of musical news from all parts of the world. It is well worth of patronage. Address, D. W. Prentice & Co., Portland, Oregon.

Two young ladies of this city, Miss Sophia Selig and Miss Annie Harnahan, entered the novitiate on Tuesday of last week, with the usual ceremonies attendant upon such an occasion. The vows of "chastity, poverty and obedience" being with much attention and piety pronounced, the former took the name of Sister Mary Thida; the latter that of Sister Mary Albina. "Edifying ceremonies" the Sentinel calls the proceedings, and claps their hands.

A bill in equity was filed in the State Circuit Court last week by A. L. Barcroft & Co., against the State Board of Education, praying an injunction restraining the defendants from adopting a series of text books in the place of the "Pacific Coast Series" until the expiration of the contract with plaintiffs, October 1st, 1881. Judge Bellinger granted a temporary injunction and ordered defendants to show cause at the expiration of ten days why injunction should not be granted.

The sixtieth anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into the United States was celebrated on Saturday, the 26th ult., in this city with becoming pomp and circumstance. An eulogy upon the Order was carefully prepared and acceptably delivered by Hon. J. N. Delp, to a large throng assembled at the plaza. The social reunion at Odd Fellows' Temple and the ball at Turn Hall were each extremely enjoyable to members of the fraternity, their wives, sweethearts and friends.

Brevet-Brigadier General Alfred Sully died at Vancouver barracks on Sunday morning the 27th ult., after a brief illness, of internal hemorrhages. He was a native of Philadelphia, was fifty-eight years of age and had achieved an enviable reputation as a brave and gallant soldier in the war with Mexico, the war of the rebellion and in the Indian wars of the border. Several years since he was transferred to the department of the Columbia and during that time has won the esteem and confidence of all with whom he has been associated. He is fifty-five years of age, and was a "distinguished, always loyal and greatly beloved."

Kat-ko-at, the Chillicothe Indian, recently convicted of murder, in the United States District Court, was sentenced on Friday by His Honor Judge Deady to be hanged on Monday the 5th day of May. Judge Deady has occupied the bench for the past twenty-three years, and this is the first time he has been called upon to pass the death sentence. He added to this ghastly duty even a more ghastly work of supererogation, that of ordering the body of the savage to be delivered to the Medical School. Being sentenced to "death and dissection," he, so far as our knowledge goes, an entirely new feature in criminal jurisprudence, and comes probably from having "nothing but an Indian" to practice upon.

Since Plunder has put his blood Purifier on the market, people have stopped using all kinds of watery "sarsaparilla" and "whisky bitters." It "goes away" with them all.

NEW THIS WEEK.

JOHN E. CRITEN, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, Office—Room 15 Deady's building, First street, Portland, Oregon. Collections promptly made.

WHAT IS IT?

Why, of course it is the WILSON that has made such great success for being the best Sewing Machine sold in Oregon that took the gold medal over the White and Singer. It is the best Sewing Machine in the world. New Wilson No. 1, sold for $25 less than the old "monopoly" companies' machines, gives better satisfaction, is more durable, and warranted for five years.

JUST PUBLISHED, A NEW ILLUSTRATED POEM

DAVID AND ANNA MATSON.

By Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway.

Editor "New Northwest," Portland, Oregon,

WITH BEAUTIFUL ILLUSTRATIONS, AND ELEGANTLY BOUND

A new epic, from a vigorous and skillful pen, on a subject which occupies a large place in the social dimensions of the day. The subject is taken from Mr. Whitlitt's short narrative of "David and Anna," with which the reader is probably familiar. David Matson, a Maritime sailor was captured by the Algerines during one of his voyages and sold into slavery. After many years he obtained release and was on his way to the home of his boyhood, when he fell in with his old employer, who informed him that his wife, believing him dead, had remarried, and, stunned by his trouble, he surrendered all claim as husband and father to the man who had stepped into his place, and departed. Mrs. Duniway has found a theme in this story which her heart beats in warmest sympathy, and her lines flow on in the smooth cadence in descriptive of the finest novel. She pictures the gentle, tender, trustful Anna and the brave, brave Pelatiah in vivid colors, and how years of poverty and longing, and the cries of the hungry boys, compelled poor Anna to yield to Pelatiah's importunity.

"Rise, rejoice, My poor, unmade dove," said he, "And look henceforth for love to me."

A little further on he says: "Become my wife and you shall be Made happy through prosperity."

While, if she persists in defying his advances, wolf-like, he threatens to abandon her to starvation and cold. And this Pelatiah was a "deacon."

"In exasperation deep and loud," The wonderings of David, his captivity, release, hapless interview with Pelatiah, discovery of Anna's second widowhood, and his sad going back to Algeria, are all told so pathetically that our feelings are deeply stirred. No one, with any true sentiment, can read the poem without being thoroughly stirred. The illustrations are in admirable keeping with the passages they are designed to portray, and a fine engraving of the author is a fitting frontispiece. The subject spirit and passion of the poem should give it an extensive reading, aside from the interest which the literary reputation of the author must awaken in it. As a specimen of book-making the volume is certainly beautiful, and would adorn any counterpane.

We know of no work so well adapted as a present. It is printed on heavy tinted paper and most beautifully bound, price, $2.00; full gilt extra, $2.50. For sale by booksellers, or by mail, post-paid.
